Organization:

The 7th Student's Congress of Philosophy will take place from September 9 to September 10, 2025, as part of the GAP.12 Congress organized by the German Society for Analytic Philosophy at the Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf.

The Student Council of Philosophy at Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-University Bonn is organizing this Congress in collaboration with the German Society for Analytic Philosophy (GAP).

All submissions will undergo a blind peer review conducted by researchers who are currently pursuing a Ph.D. or have already completed their Ph.D. at a German-speaking university. The review results will be communicated via email by early June 2025. If your presentation is selected, we will contact you for further organizational details.

There will be no conference fees for participants. While we generally cannot cover travel and accommodation costs, there is an option to stay free of charge with local students.

For exceptional- or hardship cases or any other inquiries, please feel free to contact the organizers at fsphilo@uni-bonn.de.
